

INTESTINAL INFECTIONS AND INFLAMMATORY BOWEL DISEASES

Workshop for young scientists (Ph.D. students and postdocs) from Israel and Germany

September 22-25, 2024

Parkhotel Bilm, Hannover, Germany

The workshop is intended to bring together basic and clinical scientists in training from the fields of infectious diseases and inflammatory bowel diseases

GIF (German Israel Foundation for Scientific Research and Development) will cover travel costs to the GYSM and (if desired) hotel accommodation for three nights in Hannover.

Who can apply?

The GYSM is aimed at young scientists from German or Israeli institutions. Postdoctoral researchers, as well as PhD or MD students or other researchers who are involved in relevant research projects, are invited to submit proposals. The working language of the workshop will be English.

Application process

Applicants are requested to send an abstract in English (maximum 500 words) explaining how their proposal addresses the theme of the GYSM as outlined above, as well as a short CV (maximum 2 pages), by May 31, 2024, to: gif.ibd2024@gmail.com. Successful applicants will be notified by June 15, 2024. Every chosen applicant will present their research with an oral talk.

Keynote speakers

Claudia
Günther

Bella Ungar

Philip Rosenstiel

Eran Elinav

Till
Strowig

Omry Koren

Organizers

Guntram
Graßl

Shai Bel

Click here for more details